Dear Ms. Furmankiewicz,

now that the turbulent days of the Warsaw party are over, I wish to thank you once again for Your precious cooperation in the making of an event that has raised a great enthusiasm among all the guests.

I have been very favourably impressed, way over my expectation, by the excellent buffet prepared with great care, both in the quality of the food and the production, presented with a refined decor and perfectly finished in every single detail.

Even my guests have been positively impressed by such an high level of organization, still the subject of compliments that, to be honest, go all to your competence.

I would also like to thank You for having chosen a staff of assistants that even facing difficulties in communication, has committed for the whole evening (and we were 700 people) with attention and awareness, without counting the hours and with great kindness and availability.

I hope to return to Warsaw one day and I already make my reservation to be Your guest for a meal that will celebrate - I want all the dishes made for the party - a culinary tradition of great interest.

Sincerely Yours,
